

ATTENTION: Important Information about the Smoke-free Workplace Ordinance

What should I do if a customer, vendor or visitor is smoking?

Remind the person politely of the law and explain that he/she must step outside to smoke.

You can say:

- “The law no longer allows smoking inside here. I’m sorry, but you’ll have to step outside to smoke.”
- “The new smoke-free law prohibits smoking indoors. Thank you for your cooperation.”
- “We are under a smoke-free law now. I need to ask you to put out your cigarette.”

If customers refuse to comply, use common sense. If necessary, use your normal protocol for removing a disruptive customer from your premises.

ATTENTION: Important Information about the Smoke-free Workplace Ordinance

What should I do if a customer, vendor or visitor is smoking?

Remind the person politely of the law and explain that he/she must step outside to smoke.

You can say:

- “The law no longer allows smoking inside here. I’m sorry, but you’ll have to step outside to smoke.”
- “The new smoke-free law prohibits smoking indoors. Thank you for your cooperation.”
- “We are under a smoke-free law now. I need to ask you to put out your cigarette.”

If customers refuse to comply, use common sense. If necessary, use your normal protocol for removing a disruptive customer from your premises.

ATTENTION: Important Information about the Smoke-free Workplace Ordinance

What should I do if a customer, vendor or visitor is smoking?

Remind the person politely of the law and explain that he/she must step outside to smoke.

You can say:

- “The law no longer allows smoking inside here. I’m sorry, but you’ll have to step outside to smoke.”
- “The new smoke-free law prohibits smoking indoors. Thank you for your cooperation.”
- “We are under a smoke-free law now. I need to ask you to put out your cigarette.”

If customers refuse to comply, use common sense. If necessary, use your normal protocol for removing a disruptive customer from your premises.

EMPLOYERS:

These pay stub inserts will help you educate your employees on the smoke-free workplace ordinance in Kenton County.

You can make copies of this original, cut along the dotted lines to separate and insert into pay envelopes.

For more information, please visit

<http://www.nkyhealth.org> or call 859.341.4151.